

PRIVACY POLICY

WHAT WE COLLECT

When you contact Mesa, submit an inquiry, request catering or another service, or otherwise use this website, we may collect information you choose to provide. This can include your name, email address, phone number, event details, location information you provide, dietary or allergy information, and anything else included in your message.

HOW WE USE IT

We use this information to respond to inquiries, prepare proposals, coordinate services, process requests, communicate with you, and operate and improve the website. We only ask for information that is useful for these purposes.

WEBSITE DATA + COOKIES

This website is built and hosted through Wix. Wix and any analytics, security, or similar tools enabled on the site may automatically collect limited technical information, such as IP address, browser or device information, pages viewed, and cookie data. These tools help the site function, remain secure, and help us understand how it is used.

SHARING

Mesa does not sell personal information. Information may be shared with service providers when reasonably necessary to operate the website or provide the service you requested, for example website hosting, email, payment, scheduling, or business administration services.

YOUR CHOICES

You may contact Mesa to ask what personal information you have provided to us, request a correction, or request deletion where appropriate. You can also adjust cookie settings through your browser and any cookie controls provided on the website.

CONTACT

For privacy questions or requests, please contact Mesa through the Contact page on this website. We may update this policy from time to time; the date below shows the latest version.
